

|  |
|--|
| Final Consonant Drill-NGE          |
| What is the danger in this?            |
| She wanted to cringe after he said it. |
| They wanted to avenge the loss.        |
| He was a deranged killer.              |
| I bought a new range.                  |
| It was such a challenge for her.       |
| She went on a shopping binge.          |
| You can change the tire for me.        |
| She met with her estranged family.     |
| Can I exchange this for another size?  |
| The door had a squeaky hinge.          |
| He tried to lunge for her.             |
| I don't want to impinge on your time.  |
| You can always find her in the lounge. |
| That dog looks like it has mange.      |
| My favorite color is orange.           |
| Is it time to take the plunge?         |
| She has a five-octave range.           |
| She wanted to get revenge.             |
| Can you scrounge up a new one for me?  |
| That heat can singe your hair.         |
| I used a sponge in the kitchen.        |
| She says some strange things.          |
| Her hair had a tinge of pink in it.    |
| Don't shortchange yourself.            |