

Textbooks

Huntington Junior College provides each student with the textbooks that are required to complete the course work at no additional charge to the student. If a student loses or sells the books, they are required to buy the next set of textbooks.

HJC will not allow the student to charge the textbook to their student account. The textbooks must be purchased with cash or credit card.

If a student picks up a book they had previously received during the book distribution period, the student's account will automatically be charged. This is the only time a student may charge a book to their account. (Effective immediately)
